Kato-san,

This is the final tag, yes I am aware that it says tag too. In the future when CAD runs out of header cards they will add similar text to the header card and not longer apply the label/tag.

You are correct in saying this is not a tag. Hope this info helps.

Kirk,

Could you please confirm with CAD whether the language in the label attached to the header card is the final one. Because it says "NOTICE: This tag to be removed by customer only."

I do not think this is a "tag". I think that CAD just copied the same statement as the one in the actual tag.

Thanks,

Mitch

Kato-san,

Thanks for your support with the ES 350 NHTSA investigation. Attached are scanned images of the text on the top portion of the drivers side mat, the notification Tag, and the Header Card Sticker. As we discussed, a set of countermeasure floor mats will be sent to you in Japan as well.

Thanks for your support.
